

Privacy Policy

If you voluntarily sign up for the newsletter of Andrew Himmel (the “author”), this site will record your email address, and other information you may choose to provide, such as your name, address or phone number. You can refuse to supply personal information, but that will exclude you from certain related activities such as receiving newsletters, blogs, and free offers. When subscribers click on a link in one of the author’s emails or fill out a form, the site may record this information (see below how this information is used).

Subscribers may unsubscribe at any time. You may ask for all your data to be deleted at any time.

If you enter a giveaway, your name and email are collected. If you win a physical prize, you will be asked to give your name and physical address.

This website may collect non-personal information about visitors when they interact with the site. This information may include the browser name, means of connection to the site, and other non-identifying information.

This website may use “cookies” to enhance visitor experience. Typically, cookies may be placed on visitors' hard drive for record-keeping purposes and sometimes to track information about them. Visitors may choose to set their web browser to refuse cookies, or to send an alert when cookies are being sent. If they do so, note that some parts of the site may not function properly.

Newsletter and blog subscribers’ names and emails will only be used for receiving the newsletters, the blog, or communications from the author.

Giveaway entrants will be sent emails only about the giveaway, unless they also signed up for the newsletter or blog.

Information on which email links are clicked on the most will help the author choose links that interest readers in future emails.

Subscriber information is never shared with a third party. The only exception is that email addresses may occasionally be used to create lookalike audiences for online marketing. This in no way distributes the emails or signs subscribers up to any other services.

Sometimes the author will include third-party links through email or on the website. These sites have their own policies and you should read those before subscribing or purchasing from them.

The author may update this privacy policy at any time. A notice about such changes will be posted on this site or emailed to you. You acknowledge and agree that it is your responsibility to review this Privacy Policy periodically and become aware of modifications.

By visiting and using andrewhimmel.com, you signify your acceptance of this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree, you can simply not use the site. Continued use of the site means you accept the policy and any periodic changes.

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy or anything else on andrewhimmel.com, please email the author at andrew.himmel@gmail.com or contact the author using the form on this site.
